

What is LiNC-IT?

Linking North Carolina with Innovative Talent (LiNC-IT) helps recruit autistic early career professionals for paid internships with employer partners. Many of these individuals have the skills and education employers need, but they can be overlooked in traditional hiring processes.

How does LiNC-IT support interns and employers?

LiNC-IT leverages funding from the NC Department of Health and Human Services for high quality service providers who are experts in supporting autistic individuals for success in the workplace. Service providers provide job coaching to the intern and they give companies training on how to support autistic job candidates and employees.

Consider becoming an employment partner!

We are looking for more employment partners to host LiNC-IT interns who have a variety of interests. Visit linc-it.org for more information on the initiative. Email us at ncbceadmin@nc.gov with questions or if you would like to set up a time to talk.

QR CODE
HERE

Check out Harvard University's Project on Workforce
Development's evaluation of
LiNC-IT's impact!

Employers who are benefitting from LiNC-IT Recruits

Alamance Community College

Bank of America

BioAgilytix

Biogen

Carrboro Arts Center

Caterpillar

Corning

Credit Suisse

Fidelity Investments

GE

JP Morgan

Lenovo

NCBCE

NC Department of Commerce

NC Department of Health and Human Services

NC Department of Information Technology

NC Department of Public Instruction

NC Department of Public Safety

NC Department of Revenue

NC Department of Transportation

NC Office of the Governor

Novozymes North America

Participate

PassionIT Group

PennyMac

Red Hat

Revature

SAS

Sears

Smithfield Foods

Technica Editorial

UNC Genetics

UNC Healthcare

Wake Tech

Wells Fargo